Phew! We asked for your event updates from around the Wonderful World of Glass^{®GF} and still they are flooding in. Thank you.

Barely had our fingers left the keyboard on completing GC27 yesterday that we received notification of yet more goings-on down at the Red House Cone. Normally these would go straight into our Dates for your diary section but, seeing as a couple are rather imminent, we thought it best to get them out there by way of this supplement to our Springtime Show Special. So, let's hand over to our good chum Nicola Havers to tell you all about it. She's Tourism Assistant with DMBC, as if you didn't know already. Take it away, Nicola ...

'Hi Graham' she says. 'Would you be able to add some events to the next GlassCuts edition that are taking place at Red House Glass Cone over the forthcoming months?'

The details are:

Spring Craft Market on Saturday 18 May 10am to 4pm. Handcrafted goods, craft activities, glassmaking demonstrations and open studios

Have a Go Day on Saturday 18 May. 10am to 4pm. Our Made@theCone tenants will be running their popular Have-A-Go-Day; try your hand at a new craft. Prices from £5.

1940s Weekend on Saturday 13 & Sunday 14 July. Join us for a day of 1940s glamour with costumed re-enactors and vintage vehicles

Knights in Shining Armour Saturday 24, Sunday 25 & Monday 26 August. The age of chivalry returns with a team of noble knights in full armour walking around our historic site. Plus: made@thecone with a medieval twist on Monday 26 August.

Glass Quarter Christmas Festival & Craft Fayre on Saturday 30 November & Sunday 1 December. Get Christmas off to a flying start at Red House Glass Cone and Broadfield House Glass Museum. There'll be glassmaking demonstrations and open studios, as well as trails and craft activities for the children. The cone will be hosting its annual Christmas craft fayre this weekend too and there will be a variety of stalls including work by local designers and artists.

No problem, Nicola, and good luck with that lot.

Keep them coming. Next scheduled GlassCuts will be sometime towards the end of this merry month of May. In the meantime, Keep it Glass.
