

Allister & friends at IFoG 2022

A few images from a fun packed weekend at The International Festival of Glass.

Allister, Maddy and Darren seized the opportunity to collaborate on an emoji Just for Fun - It can now be seen on display in the studio!

Madeleine Hughes invited John Moran - Winner of Netflix's Blown Away to join her for a special collaboration too.

The piece took several hours to create with crowds sticking around to see the entire process, they were rooted to the spot!

I believe the piece may go on display somewhere in the museum for a short period - details to be announced later.

Darren Weed Created some stunning pieces with canework as the crowds watched

Well we had fun. For those who were not able to join us Allister will be sharing footage of the highlights on his social media - do take a look and follow to keep up with the latest news from the Hot Shop!
